Reserves and commissions, when placed by telephone, are accepted only at the sender's risk and must be confirmed by letter or telegram.

Clearance of Purchases

In order to avoid delay in clearing purchases Buyers unknown to us are advised to make arrangements before the sale for payment or for references to be supplied. If such arrangements are not made cheques will be cleared before purchases are delivered.

Property from Abroad

Clients resident outside the Sterling Area and sending goods for sale from outside that area can be paid in the currency of their choice. These facilities are not available to residents in the Sterling Area who, upon request, can be paid in the currency of the country in which they reside. There are no taxes on sales by auction in England.

Catalogues and Price Lists

Catalogues and Price Lists can be obtained on Annual Subscription. For details of terms please apply for our subscription list. Requests for sundry catalogues and price lists should be accompanied by remittance.

Valuations

We value collections or the contents of houses for probate, insurance or family division. Our fee is 1% with a reduction to ½% after the first £10,000. Alternatively we will quote an inclusive fee.

Inspections

We will inspect properties and advise owners who wish to sell at auction for a small fee plus travelling expenses. If within three months of a visit property which subsequently sells for more than £500 is received the fee will be refunded.

NOTICE
and Condition of Sale

Care is taken to ensure that any statement as to authorship, attribution, origin, date, age, provenance and condition is reliable and accurate but all such statements are statements of opinion and are not to be taken as statements or representations of fact. Sotheby & Co. reserve the right, in forming their opinion, to consult and rely upon any expert or authority reasonably considered by them to be reliable.

In sending Commissions this Catalogue may be referred to as "BRUSSELLS"

STANDARD CONDITIONS OF SALE

1 The highest bidder shall be the buyer. If any dispute arises the auctioneer shall have absolute discretion to settle it and to put any disputed lot up again. Sotheby & Co. act as agents only; they have full discretion to refuse any bidding, to divide any lot, to combine any two or more lots and to withdraw any lot or lots from the sale without in any case giving any reason.

2 No person shall advance any price less than 5 shillings, or, above 10 pounds, 10 shillings, and so on in proportion or at such rate as the auctioneer may in his absolute discretion direct.

3 All lots are put up for sale subject (a) to any reserve price imposed by the seller or (b) to the right of the seller to bid either personally or by any one person (who may be the auctioneer).

4 Immediately the lot is sold buyers shall notify their names and addresses to Sotheby & Co., and, if required, pay down 10 shillings in the pound (or such further amount as Sotheby & Co. in their absolute discretion may determine) in part payment of the purchase money, in default of which the lot or lots purchased may be immediately put up again and resold.

5 All lots are sold as shown, with all faults imperfections and errors of description. Neither Sotheby & Co., nor the vendor(s) are responsible for errors of description or for genuineness or authenticity of any lot, or for any fault or defect in it. No warranty whatever is given by Sotheby & Co. or any vendor to any buyer in respect of any lot.

6 (a) Notwithstanding the preceding Condition, if within twenty-one days of the sale of any manuscript or autograph letter the buyer gives notice in writing to Sotheby & Co. that the lot sold is a forgery and if within fourteen days after giving such notice the buyer returns the lot in the same condition as it was at the time of sale to the premises of Sotheby & Co. and there shows that considered in the light of the terms of the Catalogue the lot sold is a forgery Sotheby & Co. are authorised to and will rescind the sale and refund the purchase price received by them.

Descriptions of manuscripts should not be taken as implying or guaranteeing that the manuscript is complete unless this is specifically stated.

(b) Unless described in the Catalogue as "sold not subject to return" printed books which prove upon collation to be defective in text or illustration (provided such defects are not mentioned in the sale Catalogue) may be returned by the buyer, and the sale set aside, provided that they are returned within twenty-one days after the conclusion of the sale to the premises of Sotheby & Co. in the same condition in which they were at the time of the sale accompanied by a note stating the imperfections, with the number of lot and date of sale at which it was purchased.

(c) Books may not be returned nor will their sale be set aside on account of damage to binding, stains, foxing, marginal worm holes, lack of blank leaves or other conditions not affecting the completeness of the text or illustration, NOR on account of lack of list of plates, inserted advertisements, cancels or any subsequently published volume, supplement, appendix or plates, NOR (provided the book be perfect) on account of an error in the enumeration of the plates; NOR for possible misattribution of authorship where the authorities are in disagreement. Books unnamed in lots may not be returned for any reason.

7 Lots shall be paid for in full and taken away from Sotheby & Co.'s premises at the buyer's risk and expense by the end of the first working day after the conclusion of the sale, in default of which Sotheby & Co. shall not be responsible if the same are lost, stolen, damaged, or destroyed and any lots not taken away shall be at the sole risk of the buyer and subject to a charge for warehousing. No purchase shall be claimed or removed until the sale has been concluded. If at the expiration of seven days after the conclusion of the sale lots are not cleared they may then be sold immediately, either publicly or by private treaty, without any notice being given to the buyer.

8 In the event of any failure of the buyer to comply with any of the above Conditions the damages recoverable from the defaulter shall include any loss arising on any resale of the lot, together with the charges and expenses in respect of both sales, and any money deposited in part-payment.

499 PORTOLAN MAP of the area from the Straits of Gibraltar to the eastern end of the Black Sea, with PLACE-NAMES IN GREEK, the outlines of the coast in brown tinted with green, place-names in red and brown (some along the sides of the map with reference numbers on the map itself), rhumb-lines in red, brown and green radiating from six centres, some islands in colours, DECORATED WITH COLOURED DRAWINGS OF SIX HUMAN FIGURES AND SEVEN CITIES, MANUSCRIPT ON VELLUM (a whole skin with the neck at the west end of the map), somewhat rubbed, edges stained and frayed at some points, the main part of the map in sound condition, in a cloth folder (385*mm. by* 920*mm.) [? Italy, first half of sixteenth century*]

 MAPS WITH PLACE-NAMES IN GREEK ARE OF THE GREATEST RARITY. In his study of Greek portolan texts (Les Portulans grecs, Liège, 1947) Professor Armand Delatte reproduces a sixteenth-century map in the Bibliothèque Nationale (suppl. 1094) signed by the otherwise unknown Nicholas Bourdopoulos of Patmos, with the comment (p. xix, n. 1) that "nous ne connaissons aucune autre carte de cette époque où les noms sont indiqués en grec". The present map seems to be a few years earlier than that of Bourdopoulos, which is also drawn on a whole skin but has no names along the sides and no human figures. The figures in the present map, even the two illustrating European countries, are distinctly oriental in style. Six of them hold banners with heraldic devices (one or three crescents, a double-headed eagle); the seventh, in North Africa, is running and about to shoot an arrow from a bow.

LOT 499 (reduced)

Mare Oceanum
Barberia

500 TWO PORTOLAN MAPS of (1) the western Mediterranean including the Iberian peninsula and the coast of Morocco and Algeria, from the Canaries in the south-west to Liguria in the north-east and (2) the eastern Mediterranean, from Salonika and Constantinople in the north to Crete in the south, showing the outlines of the coasts (in brown, lightly tinted with green), islands (in various colours), numerous place-names (in red and brown) and rhumblines (in red, brown and green) radiating from several centres in each map, DECORATED WITH SHIPS AND SEA-MONSTERS IN THE SEA AND CITIES AND PALM-TREES ON THE LAND, MANUSCRIPTS ON VELLUM, slightly stained but in sound condition
(about 425*mm. by* 565*mm.*) [Italy, sixteenth century]

 Two out of a set of three maps covering the whole of the Mediterranean. The decoration is unusually rich.

[See ILLUSTRATION]

501 PORTOLAN OF THE NORTH ATLANTIC. A map, apparently partly printed partly in manuscript, of the North Atlantic showing Scandinavia, Germany, Poland, France, England and Ireland, Greenland and Iceland, with several coats of arms, ON VELLUM, in very poor condition, with some sections extremely faint, having probably suffered from a fire and general neglect; sold not subject to return measuring 520*mm. by* 655*mm. approx.*
[Holland, first quarter of the seventeenth century]

 We are indebted to the help of the British Museum Map room in identifying this interesting map, unfortunately in bad state. It had at one time evidently been stuck on a wall or boards having small holes and little tears all round the extreme outer margin.

The Property of a Gentleman

546 FRANKLIN (BENJAMIN) A.L. (third person), 1 page, 4*to*, Passy, 27 April, 1778, to the Comte de Milly at the Rue Dauphine, Paris, presenting his compliments and saying that he should be glad to see Milly and his friend M. Broignard at 11 o'clock on Wednesday morning "if they should then be pleased to do him the Honour of calling upon him", integral address leaf (addressed by Franklin), armorial seal and postmarks

547 LONGFELLOW (H. W.) Early A.L.s., 1½ pages, 4*to*, Bowdoin College, 28 Feb., 1835 [to his publishers Harper & Brothers], about the republishing of his book Outre-Mer: A Pilgrimage Beyond the Sea and his anxiety to see the proof sheets, also mentioning his imminent departure for England and the consequent confusion he is in

 Not in the Letters, ed. Andrew Hilen, 1966 (Vol. I, 1814-1836), and apparently unpublished.

548 WASHINGTON (GEORGE, first President of the United States) A.L.s., 1 page, 8*vo*, Saturday, 9 June, [17]92, TO THOMAS JEFFERSON: written as President, ABOUT THE ESTABLISHMENT OF THE UNITED STATES MINT, recommending that the site for it ("the Lots and Houses which are offered for sale") should be purchased rather than rented, etc., integral second leaf addressed "Mr Jefferson" in Washington's hand

. . . That all the applications may be brought to view, & considered, for coining &c.;—Mr Lear will lay the letters and engravings before you to be shewn to the Director of the Mint.—I have no other object or wish in doing it than to obtain the best.

 The corner-stone of the Mint was laid by David Rittenhouse, whom Washington had appointed Director, on 31 July, 1792, a few weeks after the date of this letter. Coining was to commence at about the same time, 1,500 silver half dimes (for which Washington supplied some of his own private plate) being produced during July before the Mint was completed.

Other Properties

549 LINCOLN (ABRAHAM, President of the United States) Early autograph affidavit, written by him at the age of 29 as partner in the legal firm of Stuart and Lincoln, and issued in a case before the Sangamon county circuit court in the State of Illinois, 1 page, 4*to*, 30 August 1838, official endorsement of the Clerk of the Court on verso

 The document concludes with the firm's signature "Stuart & Lincoln for Plff [Plaintiff]", and is entirely in the President's hand except for the signed declaration and date added by the Clerk of the Court. Lincoln at this time was in practice at Springfield, Illinois, with John Todd Stuart, the first of his partners as a lawyer.

The document concerns the sworn complaint of Lincoln's friend Abner Y. Ellis against Levi Nave, who is stated to have absconded owing a debt of 460 dollars. Ellis had lived with Lincoln at New Salem and remained his close friend.

550 AMERICAN WAR OF INDEPENDENCE. ERSKINE (EBENEZER) Autograph Journal containing a narrative of his adventures in America from March to November 1780, 34 ll., 8*vo*, written on both sides, including his voyage in an English privateer from New York to Florida and back (description of St. Augustine, some details of New York, shipping encountered, capture of an American prize, etc.), various persons whom he met (several fellow Scotsmen), his passage through English-held territory to join the Americans, his meeting at Ringwood with his uncle Robert Erskine, "Surveyor and Geographer to the United States" (details of whose circumstances and plans are given, and through whom he is introduced to General Washington at his headquarters), and the plunder of Robert Erskine's house by robbers, written in a notebook, autograph title and the writer's name on wrapper, 12 leaves slightly stained

 The wrapper is inscribed "Continuation of Transactions Since I left Scotland/Brought from N°A/N°B/Ebenezer Erskine/Ringwood". The year is not mentioned in the manuscript, but the information on Robert Erskine and the letters described below imply 1780.

Included in the lot are two amusing A.Ls.s. written to Ebenezer Erskine by John Suffern (apparently a justice) and Erskine's autograph copies of his two replies, in all 4½ pages, folio, New Antrim and Ringwood, 26-30 July 1780, one with integral address leaf, two endorsements by Erskine. Suffern accuses Erskine of seducing a servant from his employment and taunts him with ignorance of American ways; there is badinage about the qualifications and headgear of American and English justices; and the correspondence ends with a request for 30 lbs. of tobacco for Robert Erskine.

550A AMERICAN WAR OF INDEPENDENCE. CHESNEY (Captain ALEXANDER, 1756-1843) Early autograph draft of his Journal, signed, with revisions and additions, covering the period 1772-1811, and describing (1) his family, his emigration with them from Ireland to America in 1772, and their settlement in South Carolina, (2) his military activities as an officer fighting on the loyalist side in America from 1775 until 1782, and (3) his return to Ireland in 1782, applications in London for compensation for losses in America, and his career in government service in Ireland, 80 pages, 4*to*, somewhat dampstained, contemporary wrappers (defective)

 These memoirs are an unrecorded version of the more extensive manuscript in the British Museum (Add. MS. 32627) which has been published as The Journal of Alexander Chesney, a South Carolina Loyalist in the Revolution and After, ed. E. A. Jones, Ohio State University Bulletin, XXVI, No. 4 (1921).

The signed autograph note at the beginning of the present manuscript is dated from "Prospect" in County Down on 4 February 1795, when Chesney began to compile it from "several memorandums of journeys and occurrences" which were among his papers, "and to add such other matters as are fresh within my recollection".

551 ANTI-SLAVERY AND TEMPERANCE. DOW (NEAL, Mayor of Portland in 1851) Vigorous A.L.s., 1 page, 4*to*, Portland, 28 November 1851, to his friend Thatcher, urging him to organise the temperance movement at Augusta (". . . stir up the people . . . We want some great names there . . ."), expressing disgust that there are "so many Rum shops remaining", and exulting over his own campaign at Portland (". . . brought two of our worst Rumsellers to their knees! . . . as a wolf in a trap!")—GARRISON (WILLIAM LLOYD, abolitionist) A.L.s., 1 page, 8*vo*, Roxbury, 3 March 1878, to John Owen, referring to an "affecting anecdote", which may be known to his friend Wendell Phillips (the abolitionist)—LOWELL (JAMES RUSSELL) A.L.s. (initials), 4 pages, 8*vo*, Elmwood, "Saturday p.m.", to "Charles", referring to himself as "a Ulysses who had seen the cities and manners of many men", and describing his experiences at an auction where he bought a large number of trees, "native and not French tres, which is all the better, for we must stick to the Monroe doctrine, whatever it is", together with a signature of Lowell, endorsed on a cheque, also an A.L.s. of Elihu Burritt (advocate of international peace) to an editor, 1 page, 8*vo*, undated

552 LEE (General ROBERT E., commander-in-chief of the Confederate armies in the American Civil War) A.L.s., 1½ pages, 8*vo*, Lexington, Virginia, 18 November 1869, to John Barran, junior, hoping that he will return to Virginia and thanking him for his wishes for its prosperity, but "I fear that she [Virginia] has some years of suffering before her yet", though difficulties may be overcome by prudence and patience, mounted by integral blank leaf

553 ROOSEVELT (THEODORE, President of the United States) Typed L.s., 1 page, 4*to*, Oyster Bay, N.Y., 15 April 1901, to E. Heneage, of the Durban Club, Naal, expressing his sadness at the war in South Africa, "for I have known a good many Africanders both of British and Dutch descent . . . I regard it as a dreadful misfortune to have them at one another's throats instead of working hand in hand . . . ", referring to his own Dutch descent, and mentioning the prophecy of his friend F. C. Selous (the African hunter and explorer) about the duration of the war, on paper headed "The Vice-President's Chamber", with the original envelope

 Roosevelt succeeded to the presidency in the same year on the death of President McKinley on 14 September.

554 AUDUBON (JOHN JAMES, 1785-1851) IMPORTANT SERIES OF NINE A.Ls.s. (five of which are joint letters from him and his wife Lucy), c. 16 pages in his hand and c. 8 pages in her hand, 4*to* (and one 8*vo*), Charleston S.C., London, Edinburgh, Sheffield, Liverpool, Minnie's Land (Manhattan), 1837-1846, TO MR. OR MRS. BENJAMIN PHILLIPS (and one to Mrs. Phillips's father), with integral address panels, seals, original seal-tears and a few other tears, sometimes affecting text, together with one original envelope; PLUS SIXTEEN LETTERS FROM MEMBERS OF THE AUDUBON FAMILY, including ten more letters from his wife Lucy (c. 22 pages, 4*to*-12*mo*), three from his son Victor (c. 4 pages, 4*to*) and three from his daughter-in-law Maria (c. 4 pages, 4*to*), all to the Phillips family, sending news of John James Audubon, etc., one with an attractive engraved heading of St. John's Church, Edinburgh

 In these letters Audubon discusses his work in detail, referring in particular to his Birds of America

. . . having determined in my mind to finish my 'Birds of America' in four volumes, I found myself suddenly too rich as it were, and somewhat puzzled in the forming of an arrangement likely to please my patrons and also myself: This arrangement is as follows:

I have made drawings of now nearly all these rare or new species, placing many different ones of the same genera on the same plates . . . and have forwarded some of these plates to England; then to increase the figures of the same generas already portrayed by this means the number of prints will still consist of 400 and no appendix! . . .

He describes his synopsis of Birds of America as "dry", "horrible" and even "shocking", but hopes that it will help his correspondent to arrange the plates in "scientific order"; he also discusses his plans for the preparation of his Quadrupeds of America (". . . I know a good deal about our quadrupeds and have very many most valuable notes about them in my various journals of the woods and swamps", " . . . Do you know any good artist who would make a drawing of the Musk Ox in the British Museum for me . . . ? "). He refers to his election as an Honorary Member of the new Zoological society in London (" . . . when I heard of this I promised myself the pleasure of sending that society a beautiful tame Anhinga (none ever were in Europe alive) but my retriever killed it last night, and now the body is in rum . . . "), his trip to the Gulf of Mexico, and current affairs in America, including the Florida War and the opinion prevalent there of President Van Buren. He reveals his affection for the Phillips family

. . . When again in the dear woods of my beloved country; I will, on certain May days, rest at the door of my cabin, beneath the shadows of some tree gazing on my beloved wife, children, their bairns, nature; and anon turn my eyes towards the East, and sigh for the sight of such real friends as yourself and yours . . .

He refers frequently to pet mocking-birds and flying squirrels which he has given them, also mentioning his own pets (" . . . feathered pets I will have no more, our attachments grow too strong upon us, even between man and beast, and the feelings of the loss of even a feathered companion is extremely painful . . . ").

While the Audubons were in London, they lived in the same street as Dr. Phillips, who was an eminent surgeon. Mrs. Audubon was seriously ill during the two years that they were there and Dr. Phillips visited her every day, refusing to accept any payment for his visits. He was a subscriber to The Birds of America and a close friend of John James Audubon, who wrote of him "Were I to mention the many occasions on which he has aided me by his advice and superior knowledge of the world, you would be pleased to find so much disinterestedness in human nature". (see F. H. Herrick, Audubon the Naturalist, second edition, 1938, II, pages 144-5 etc.)

The present letters are not in Letters of John James Audubon 1826-1840 (2 vol., Boston, 1930) and are apparently UNPUBLISHED.

555 United States and the Far East. The Autograph Journal of John S. Sewall, Captain's Clerk of the United States ship Saratoga, covering her expedition to China, 9 September, 1850-5 September, 1854, circa 370 pages, two leaves torn, several related documents loosely inserted including Sewall's Appointment as Captain's Clerk (18 July, 1850), A.L.s. to his brother written from Cape Town on the voyage out, and autograph drafts or copies of three letters written by him during the voyage in his official capacity, fly-leaf signed and dated from on board the Saratoga at Norfolk, 19 Aug. 1850, original binding of rough calf, folio

 The Saratoga was one of the American squadron commanded by Commodore Matthew C. Perry which arrived in Japan in May, 1853, on the celebrated expedition which, after nearly a year, resulted in the treaty that first "opened" Japan to the West. The Saratoga had arrived at Maca in China on 8 April, 1851, and had spent the ensuing two years there (visiting Hong Kong, Cumsingmun, Whampoa, Amoy, cruising among the adjacent islands, etc.), but Sewall's Journal terminates on 10 May, 1853, on the eve of the ship's departure for Japan, and does not resume until 4 April, 1854, after the mission was completed, when the Saratoga began her voyage home carrying on board Captain H. A. Adams, the bearer of Commodore Perry's dispatches to Washington and the "Treaty of Peace and Amity" concluded with Japan. Sewall explains this gap in the Journal in his last entry before the break, where he records that Perry had issued an order that all journals kept by individuals on the Japan expedition would be regarded as belonging to Government and would be claimed by him. The Journal as it stands is an extremely full narrative of the period covered, giving an intimate and detailed picture of Sewall's day-to-day life on board ship, and his impressions of the places in China he visited.

Sewall subsequently became Professor at Bangor Theological Seminary, Maine, and in old age he published reminiscences of his "Adventures in the China Seas" in The Logbook of the Captain's Clerk (Bangor, 1905), a copy of which is included in the lot. The present Journal, however, has remained unpublished.

556 East India Company. Grose (John, died at Rungpore, 1771) Series of eleven long A.Ls.s. (one lacking conclusion) c. 100 pages, folio and 4*to, Fort William* 1767-9 and undated, to his father Edward Grose of Priory, St. Helens, Isle of Wight, and one to his brother Nash, afterwards Sir Nash Grose (1740-1814, a High Court Judge), marked 'duplicate' but endorsed by recipient, two letters torn, affecting text; one A.L.s. from Nash Grose to John 5 pages, folio, 11 March 1769; an autograph list of articles which John asks to be sent to him in Bengal in 1764, one page, folio; two Ls.s. from John Grose, appointing his attorneys, one of them his brother Nash, with seals; a journal letter (in duplicate) containing the accounts and trade transactions of John Grose in May 1769 11 pages, folio; an inventory of his possessions at the time of his death in 1771, 8 pages, folio; two lists recording the purchasers of his effects after his death, listing each item, 9 pages, folio; etc.

 John Grose joined the East India Company as a Gentleman Writer in 1763. He served at Fort William until 1769 when he was promoted to become Supervisor at Rungpore, dying there of a fever in May 1771. Although these charming and affectionate letters to his family are largely concerned with the details of his social life and daily activities, they also give an account of political and military events in Bengal and on the Coromandel Coast. He discusses the relations between the Government and the Company and writes bitterly of the conduct of Lord Clive and his party. This correspondence forms a very readable documentation of the life of an ambitious young man seeking his fortune in the service of the East India Company when it was still the ruling power in India and offered great opportunities for the acquirement of wealth. The inventory of his possessions provides an interesting record of his way of life and standard of living, listing every item of clothing, his furniture (imported from China etc.) china, kitchen utensils and his books, which include the letters of Swift, the works of Pope, Richardson's 'Clarissa', Dr. Johnson's Dictionary, Cambridge's History of Indostan, and many others. Grose expresses his eagerness to leave Calcutta "where I find trade is dead, and the expences of living great" and describes the injustice and the distress which he encounters in Bengal

> . . . Never was such distress known in this part of the world, nor was I ever witness to such shocking scenes in my life, and God forbid I ever shou'd again—People dying by numbers every where for want, and some with money in their hands, not being able to purchase victuals with it—Women and men, offering themselves, and children, for sale, for a handful of rice, which if not to be got, they wou'd offer themselves as slaves . . .

He discusses his views on matrimony, asking after his "flames" in England.

> . . . This year's shipping has brought many ladies to Bengal in search of husbands, no less than 22 married & single came here in three ships, the settlement is now fully stocked with them . . . there are some beautiful and some not, most of them of the latter stamp . . . I really wish the Company would be a little nicer in regard to the ladies they permit to come out & only send such as are likely to prove acceptable . . .

557 BATAVIAN REPUBLIC. Letters of Marque against Holland dated 10 December 1805 issued by King George III (" . . . Whereas our most anxious endeavours to preserve neutrality and peace between us and the Batavian Republic have failed, and the Batavian Republic has become engaged in measures of hostility against us . . . we have therefore by and with the advice of our Privy Council ordered that general reprisals be granted against . . . the Batavian Republic"), authorizing the capture of Dutch prizes by Joseph Thorbon Commander of the lugger Union, belonging to the Island of Guernsey, on vellum, engraved ornamental heading, with portrait of the King, slightly stained

558 INDIA. METCALFE (C.T., 1785-1846, first Baron Metcalfe, provisional Governor-General of India 1835-6) Long A.L.s., 17 pp., 4*to.*, Calcutta, 16 August 1803, to his former schoolmaster Joseph Goodall (1760-1840, provost of Eton), stitched; together with an A.L.s. from W. H. BIRD (Deputy Governor of Bengal), 10pp., 4*to.*, Calcutta, 11 June 1840, to W. B. Bayley (1782-1860, Governor General of India, 1823-30) at India House in London, discussing the political situation on the North West Frontier, in Afghanistan, Nepal, etc. (". . . the subversion of the Khyva Govt. by the Russian forces [is] . . . pregnant with the greatest evils, both immediate & remote to our stability in this country . . ."), with integral address leaf, seal and original seal-tear

 Charles Metcalfe had been sent to India in 1800 by an established Anglo-oriental family because of the favourable prospects there. He was appointed to a Bengal writership in 1800 and was a protégé of Lord Wellesley. In the present letter, written at the age of eighteen, he describes his impressions of India and his good fortune in having been able to travel extensively, for a time in Lord Wellesley's suite, and he discusses his ambitions for the future (". . . To a man ambitious of distinguishing himself . . .there are two paths in this country open; the one leads to literary, and the other to political fame.It is my intention to travel in the last . . ."). He refers to long conversations with Goodall in his study at Eton (". . . where you would kindly listen to my silly observations and as kindly answer them . . . If ever I am destined to rise above the commonality of men, the foundation of my elevation was laid in that study . . ."). Metcalfe was indeed to have a distinguished career in India. He became renowned for his exceptional qualities of leadership and earned for himself the nickname of "King of Delhi" when he was Resident there in 1811-20.

The Property of a Lady

559 DALHOUSIE (JAMES RAMSAY, 1st Marquis of, Governor-general of India 1847-56) Series of 5 A.Ls.s., 15 pages, 4*to* (one 8*vo*), Chini (Punjab), Government House, etc., 8 December 1848—27 February 1852, to Sir Henry Miers Elliot (his foreign secretary), expressing fears that Sir Henry Lawrence is meddling in the internal affairs of an Indian state contrary to British treaty obligations, giving instructions about British policy concerning the government of another state during the minority of its young prince, enquiring about the principles involved in increasing the salaries of young officers in the Punjab, and thanking Elliot for his "Historians of India", one original envelope; together with a collection of letters and papers written to or concerning Elliot, relating to his career and Indian affairs in 1827-44, the majority written in India, c. 48 pages, folio, 4*to and* 8*vo*

560 ELLIOT (Sir HENRY MIERS, Indian civil servant and historian, 1808-1853) Series of 46 A.Ls.s. and 2 incomplete A.Ls.s., c. 150 pages, 4*to and* 8*vo*, Allahabad, Agra, Simla, Calcutta etc. and two from Cape Town 17 October 1840-19, November 1853 (a few incompletely dated), to his schoolboy and undergraduate son Henry L. Elliot, containing interesting sidelights on life in British India, describing the move from Allahabad to Agra (" . . . Take a map of India, and trace our route. We shall go at the slow rate of 10 or 12 miles a day, living in Tents all the way . . ."), his work and appointments, and political developments (" . . . The Reg^{t}. is ordered to march tomorrow towards the N. W. Frontier, where there now seems every possibility of a rupture with the Sikhs of the Punjab, and I suppose hope that the end will be that we shall add their Territory to our already magnificent Empire . . . "); two from Cape Town describing his establishment there (" . . . we have taken William into our services as Cook on the sacred promise that he will never indulge in liquor . . . "), referring to his literary work and deriding his son's joining a university reading party, 22 of the letters have address panels with Indian postal marks, and the lot includes 16 original envelopes with Indian, and one with South African postal marks

 Elliot was the first of the "competition wallahs" to pass an open examination for a post in India. In 1847 he became secretary to the governor-general in council for the foreign department, and died in South Africa.

561 SOUTH AFRICA. Album, containing 25 watercolours of South Africa, c. 1850, the majority signed G. Duff and including: Ball of Liberated Slaves, Cape Town Fishermen, Hottentot Woman, Kaffir prisoners, various sketches of natives, Procession on the anniversary of the Slave Liberation at Cape Town etc.; also 10 pen or pen and watercolour views painted by Captain J. H. Archer, 96th Regiment, on board the "Nile" and in South Africa (including view of Table Mountain), c. 1855; 10 watercolour views of monuments in Delhi, Company style, c. 1850; a pen and ink caricature of Queen's Officers in India; printed playbill of the Simla Theatre; 2 lithographs of the Punjab; press cuttings and other illustrations of life in India; title page and 13 printed illustrations from "Eastern Manners and Customs", the text loosely inserted, 1870; 6 engravings of Brighton; 5 photographs of General Tom Thumb; and printed prospectus for the "Establishment for the Education of a Limited Number of Young Ladies" in Calais, loosely inserted 4*to*

The Property of C. H. E. Ridpath, Esq.

562 NORTH AFRICA. RIDPATH (EDWARD) Journal of his tour of Algeria and Tunisia in November-December 1877, containing shrewdly observed descriptions of Algiers, Tunis, other towns, the scenery and Arab life (details of customs, dress, dancing in the Kasbah at Algiers, agriculture, Roman ruins at Carthage, the monastery of La Trappe, etc.), with comments on the Arabs and the effects of the recent French conquest of Algeria, 83 pages, folio, contemporary transcript with some autograph corrections in pencil and in ink, written in a note book, leather spine, paper covers defective

 Edward Ridpath (1831-1910) was a gold miner in Australia in 1851-3 (his journal sold in our Rooms, 18th November 1969, lot 363), and returned later to England. The present manuscript contains a reference to his stay in Australia (p. 31).

Other Properties

563 LIVINGSTONE (DAVID, 1813-73) A.L.s., 6 pages, 8*vo*, 48 Euston Square, 15 July 1865, to Captain Gardner of the Orestes (which was used by Livingstone on several occasions on the Zambesi expedition), discussing his forthcoming trip to the Rovuma, telling his friend that he hopes that he "may meet with a Captain half as obliging as you were", describing his proposed route and mentioning the anger of the Portuguese at a speech made by him at the British Association in Bath

. . . If so ill now I fear they may become lunatics when they get the book [his Narrative of an Expedition to the Zambesi and its Tributaries, 1865] . . . That which vexes them most is my telling about the tribute they pay to the natives annually on the Zambesi and the fact that they dare not go two hours from Mosambique. My experience proves that theirs is a mere pretence of power—so they are determined to squash me . . .

564 LIVINGSTONE (DAVID) Autograph note signed, one page, 12*mo*, undated ("Could you tell me the address of Dr. Kirk? companion of Dr. Livingstone in Africa and give it to Mr. James Young at the Royal Hotel . . . "), mounted on an album leaf together with the conclusion of an A.L.s. on the verso from John Forster to Thomas Carlyle, half page, 8*vo*, also an A.L.s. from the African traveller James Augustus Grant to Sir Roderick Murchison, 4 pages, small 8*vo*, with remains of album mount, slightly affecting text

565 CHESNEY (General FRANCIS RAWDON, 1789-1872, explorer and surveyor) Autograph Narrative of his travels from Constantinople to Baghdad, covering the period 5 July 1829—3 February 1830, including A LONG ACCOUNT OF HIS EXPLORATION AND SURVEY OF THE EUPHRATES (description of the construction of his special raft and of the method by which he made the survey), and relating his eventful journeys in Turkey (visit to the seat of war at Adrianople), exploration in Bulgaria (report to Wellington), visit to newly independent Greece, and to Sinai, Cairo, the Nile valley, Syria and Lebanon, and describing his aims, personal contacts with diplomats and soldiers, and his adventures (escapes from death at the hands of Arabs, etc.), 95 pages, 4*to*, half roan (defective)

 Chesney shows indefatigable energy and curiosity for exploration, military observation, study of local politics and sight-seeing.

The manuscript relates to two of Chesney's best-known achievements: his survey of the Isthmus of Suez in 1830, by which he became the first to show that a canal was practicable, and his exploration of the Euphrates valley in early 1831 with a view to a route to India. The manuscript includes his estimate of the results achieved in 1830.

565A CHESNEY (General FRANCIS RAWDON) Two letter books, containing his autograph copies and drafts of his own letters, written mainly in Ireland and partly in London in 1851-66, relating to his explorations in the Middle East and to his literary work and military career, c. 540 pages (a few not autograph), in two notebooks, one with index of correspondents and subjects, limp Russia and boards, 4*to*

 Included in the lot are three Admiralty letters, 3 pages, folio, 1834-5, about two flat-bottomed boats and supplies for Chesney's Euphrates expedition of 1835-7; an A.L.s. of Chesney to his father, 4 pages, 4*to*, 1836; his autograph manuscript of a review of a pamphlet on the Euphrates Valley Railway, 7 pages, 4*to*; and two albums containing a collection of press cuttings relating to him, and a watercolour drawing of "Prospect", the house of the Chesneys in County Down, Ireland, in 1792 (cf. lot 550A).

566 EXPLORERS. PARRY (Sir WILLIAM EDWARD, 1790-1855, Arctic explorer) Two A.Ls.s., 4 pages, 8*vo*, The Admiralty and Gosport 1844-52, the former addressed "My dear Howard", the latter to Mrs. Cosmo Melvill, "on the painful subject of the window . . . The hand of Satan is, to my apprehension, most clearly visible in it; but I trust & believe that the simple truth will yet prevail . . . ", also an A.Ls. from Lady Parry and a letter in the third person written on behalf of Parry in 1826; CHESNEY (General FRANCIS RAWDON, 1789-1872, surveyor and explorer of trade routes, etc.) A.L.s., one page, 8*vo*, "John of Gaunt on passage to Hong Kong 7 July 1843", informing his correspondent of his departure for China ("I expect to be absent either 3 or 5 years"); BEKE (CHARLES TILSTONE, 1800-74, Abyssinian explorer) A.L.s., 2½ pages, 8*vo*, Bekesbourne House, 4 October 1862, to Mr. Moor, referring to proofs of his letter to the President of the Royal Geographical Society entitled "Who discovered the sources of the Nile", London, 1863, 8*vo*; DE ROUGEMENT (LOUIS, 1847-1921, Swiss adventurer) A.L.s., one and a quarter pages, 8*vo*, 1 Coptic Street, London, 19 August 1866, to the Editor of the Daily Mail, announcing that he is about to buy "a turtle weighing half a ton (the largest ever caught) which is now exhibited in Italy. I intend to cross from Calais to Dover on its back. Should you care to be present (represented) the matter could be arranged . . . ")

567 SEIGE OF LADYSMITH. Long and interesting A.L.s. by Private Alfred Down, of the King's Royal Rifles, Natal Field Force, WRITTEN AT LADYSMITH DURING THE LAST 20 DAYS OF THE SIEGE, 18 pages, 4*to*, 8-28 February 1900, to his mother, sending a racy and very detailed day-to-day account of military operations and of the situation of the besieged garrison and himself, slight fraying of the first leaf, and a few stains, but the condition is good

. . . Saturday Feb 17th. 1900

Our relief columns still fighting outside no signs of them coming in yet, we can see the boer wagons retiring toward their railway every day. Yesterday I had the pleasure of seeing 3 of our shells burst over the Boer positions outside about 6 miles off shall be glad to see them bursting on their positions around us. We are getting a bit short of food . . . we are not getting very fat I can tell you I will give you a scale of our days rations . . .

568 BOER WAR. War Diary, kept at a Boer headquarters during the period 17 October 1899-19 March 1901, recording daily reports in considerable detail on the operations of the Boers and of the British ("the enemy"), 179 pp. folio, in English, written in the same hand throughout, mainly in pencil, in a register (with printed headings in Afrikaans for the recording of messages), outer margins of two leaves frayed (text hardly affected), contemporary boards (worn)

. . . 26-11-99. On 23rd inst. a conflict took place from 8 a.m. till 12 noon between a portion of commando a Helpmakaar and the volunteers at the Tugela Fort, Natal. Owing to the river being full our men could not cross . . . From General du Toit information was received that early on the morning of the 25th. inst. the enemy commenced firing on our people from out of Kimberley by a sortie with canon maxims and small guns; favoured in night by darkness they marched to the side of our Bloemhof burgers and have taken good positions . . . [punctuation slightly amended]

 Among the events notified to this headquarters is the capture of "Winston Spencer Churchill reported correspondent of Morning Post", under the date 17 November 1899.

This Boer military document passed into the possession, possibly by capture, of a British soldier, Sergeant R. C. Byrne, of the 1st Battalion of the Royal Irish Fusiliers, who has written his name and regiment and the place-name "Ag.dorp" inside the upper cover.

The Property of a Lady

569 SOUTH AFRICA. Important collection of 44 letters and documents concerning the expedition led by Captain R. R. Patterson, Lanark Militia, in 1878, to treat with Lobengula, King of Matabeleland, as a result of pressure put upon the Governor of Cape Colony by traders, hunters and Europeans in the Zambesi Country who were being molested by the Matabele, the events preceding the journey, Patterson's account of the meeting, and documents throwing light on THE VIOLENT AND UNEXPLAINED DEATH OF PATTERSON and his party and comprising:

1. Patterson's commission signed by Sir Theophilus Shepstone, Administrator of the Government of the Transvaal, dated Pretoria 24 June 1878 "to the command of the mission leaving Pretoria this day for Matabeleland"; L.s. by Shepstone, 22 July 1878, to Patterson confirming his instructions and referring to two letters only one of which is to be delivered to Lobengula "In the present excited state of the Native Mind all over South Africa, you may find it necessary to deliver the more general letter rather than the other. In that case however you will look upon the passages omitted in the one you deliver in the light of an instruction to yourself . . ."; THE TWO ABOVE-MENTIONED LETTERS TO LOBENGULA, one, L.s. by Shepstone, 7 pages, folio, Pretoria, 22 July 1878 imploring Lobengula to speak freely to Patterson (who) "comes to you with no presents intended to gain your ear, he is the messenger to you from the highest representative of Her Majesty The Queen of England, on this side of the great water he brings you words of peace and good will which considering from whom they come should be more precious than presents to one in your position. . . .", the other, A.L.s. by D. M. Kisch, 4 pages, folio, Pretoria, 21 June 1878 to Lobengula, " . . . You used to believe every word I told you. . . . Captain Patterson goes to your country as a friend. . . . Hearken then to his voice, and to the words of the Queen, which she sends through him. . . ." with original envelope bearing the seal of "Auditeur Generaal, Zuid Afrikaansche Republiek"; also, a memorandum, one page, folio, IN THE HANDWRITING OF PATTERSON, of his plans with regard to the expedition

2. Collection of documents and a petition, setting out the complaints of the hunters, traders and travellers with regard to the Matabele harassment, including copy of a summary of two private letters from Richard Frewen, the hunter, and one from Khami, Chief of the Bamangwato, to Sir Henry Barkly, High Commissioner at Capetown asking him to "protect his country . . . The Boers are entering it, and I do not like them, their actions are hard towards us black people . . . I say let Her Majesty preserve me, as she preserves all her people. There are three things which baffle me. War, Trading people and Drink, all these I shall get from the Boers. It is these things which destroy people . . ." (1876); also a memorandum in the handwriting of Patterson, 3½ pages, folio, giving an account of recent Matabele history

3. Copy of a letter written presumably by Patterson, but lacking final pages, 8 pages, 4*to*, Shiloh, 10 September 1878 to a friend (John ?), GIVING AN ACCOUNT OF HIS MEETINGS WITH LOBENGULA " . . . My visit to the King was perhaps the most interesting week of my whole life . . . We began rather badly . . .

He knew everything I had done, every place I had slept at, for the last month, his spies had been in constant communication with him . . . Lobengula, a perfect impersonation of a savage King—about 17 stones in weight, tall, naked but for a few strips of monkey skins hanging from his hips—a great sensual, cruel face . . . "; also IMPORTANT DRAFT ENTIRELY IN PATTERSON'S HANDWRITING of the report he planned to send to Shepstone, c. 19 pages, folio, " . . . I submit the following report of my work in this land . . . " the fair copy of which was never sent.

4. Documents and copies of official documents relating to the death of Patterson, who was supposed to have died from the effects of drinking poisoned water but was almost certainly murdered on the instructions of Lobengula, including copy of a letter from Lobengula regretting the incident, memoranda of Shepstone and Frere, reports of traders and missionaries, the hopelessly contradictory accounts of various natives (e.g. the Kaffirs who accompanied Patterson) etc.

 This material sheds important new light on an incident which has remained hitherto shrouded in mystery (cf. L. H. Gann History of Southern Rhodesia (1965), page 61).

570 JAMAICA. "An Estimate of the Number of Negroes and Cattle in Jamaica calculated from the Poll Tax Roll arising from the Law passed in December 1768 and also the Quantity of Sugar made in 1768 from the best Information that could be had", setting out statistics and values for 19 parishes in three counties, double folio, neatly written in ruled columns, one tear, upper margin frayed [1768]

571 BARBADOS. Indenture, 9 May, 1835, whereby William Reece of Christ Church, Barbados, leases to King William IV two sugar plantations, Pilgrim Place and Gibbons, for one year (1835) at £3,000 plus interest at four per cent; including two schedules (on six vellum membranes) listing the employees (i.e. all those over five years of age), referring to them as "late slaves" ("before the passing of the Act for the Abolition of Slavery"), giving their names ("Mimbo Rose, Venus, Nanny Jones, Mopsey, Mercy Sue, Lucy Dido, Damsell, Jane Blossom, Prince Caesar, Lord Combermere, Bacchus", etc.), their age, colour, country, and type of employment (domestic or labourer); as well as his land, livestock and employees, Reece makes over to the King "all coppers, stills, still heads, worm tubs, coolers, drips, pots, pans, wains, waggons, carts, carriages, implements of planting and husbanding sugar canes . . . "; written on eleven vellum membranes, stitched together with red tape, plus two additional schedules on paper, one signed by Henry Winchester, Lord Mayor of London

572 BERMUDA. "On the several Methods of providing Artificers and Labourers for the Works connected with the Dock-Yard on Ireland Island", 42 pages, folio, a few stains and repairs slightly affecting text, with a map of Grassy-Bay, Bermuda showing details of the dock-yard (1811-62) in pen-and-ink and watercolour, on linen, inserted at end, cloth, folio

 This manuscript was evidently written in about 1863. It describes the employment at the dock-yard of prisoners of war and negroes ("Bermudian Negroes, King's Negroes or Captured Slaves, French Negroes, American Refugee Negro Slaves and Florida Negroes"), and the conditions under which they lived and worked from about 1812 onwards. It also gives details of the Negro regiment and the convict establishment on the island.

The Property of a Gentleman

573 COTTON (JOHN, Australian pioneer) TWO FINE A.Ls.s., 8 pages, 4*to*, Melbourne (Port Phillip), May-July 1843, to his cousin Robert Hudson in England, describing his arrival at Port Phillip after 115 days (illustrating his first impressions of the headlands with a small pen-and-ink sketch), the thriving town of Melbourne, the current prices, the number of inhabitants, the buildings (". . . You would be astonished to see the style of the government offices here—most of them are nothing better than barns or sheds . . . Your poor tenants are more comfortably housed than some of the government officials here . . ."), the political situation (". . . will you believe it credible, that the squatters, as they are termed, who are well educated men, & are engaged in the growth of the staple commodity of the colony . . . who pay a considerable sum of money to the Government in the way of departuring licences & taxes on cattle & sheep . . . have not a single vote . . ."), the opportunities open for speculators, his new sheep and cattle station on the River Golbourne, the natives (". . . a few are always to be seen about the town clothed in blankets, kangaroo & opossum rugs; all they ask for is brown and white money to buy a loaf of bread . . ."), $2\frac{1}{2}$ pages written both horizontally and vertically; with original address covers (seals and postmarks)

 These letters are not in The Correspondence of John Cotton, Victorian pioneer 1842-9, Sydney, 1953 [Australian Historical Monographs, nos. 26-28], and are apparently UNPUBLISHED.

Cotton was a scientist of some distinction and also a poet. His poetical journal of his voyage from Plymouth to Port Phillip on the Parkfield in 1843 was published anonymously in London in 1845, together with twenty-two of his sonnets entitled Rhymes of my Leisure. A book on birds based on MSS by Cotton and edited by Robert Tyas was published in London in parts in 1854-6.

574 AUSTRALIAN GOLD RUSH (SHAW H.M.) Two fine A.Ls.s. 8 pages, folio, Ship Hebrides, Port Philip Harbour, and Forest Creek, Mount Alexander, June-December 1852 to his wife in the Isle of Wight, giving an extraordinarily graphic account of his journey to Australia, his arrival at Port Philip, which he described as "very delightful" like "a provincial Town in England, say Newport during an Election . . . ", his intention of setting out for the diggings as soon as possible " . . . I came here to make money and I will do it or perish in the attempt . . . ", his determination to better the circumstances of himself and his wife " . . . I feel the time will come when we may be happy and in comfort. . . . I am thankful I did not bring you with me society being in a sad state . . . ", with a description of his journey to the goldfields, the inns, food and the high price of living, the method of securing a licence to dig, the harshness of the work, illness, the elements " . . . The heat is so hot in the day I can scarcely bear anything on me and then again the nights are so cold. . . . The Musquitos raise bumps upon you as high as a sixpence . . . " and an exact account of the work involved in securing the gold, rather worn and torn in the folds

. . . Fancy the scum of the Earth with clothes on which positively you would not give 5/- for or indeed possess . . . pulling out a roll of Notes perhaps to the extent of £1,000 and he a convict . . . could you but see the lumps of Gold it would astonish you. . . . Today we sunk a hole 3ft deep and from the presence of Gold being discovered we think it likely to turn out to gain we intend trying some of the soil tonight. My hands are very blistered yet on the whole I do not dislike the work, but unfortunately my Chums are neither of them acquainted with the nature of labor so that the major part falls upon myself. . . .

. . . Up and to work again this morning still deepening the hole and preparing stuff for cradling. . . .

. . . The diggings are not as represented. Thousands leave them totally cut up and worse off than when then began . . . we have church service and you would be surprised at the orderly observance of the Sabbath, no drunkenness.

. . . This is the country to make money and old England to enjoy it but you must work. . . .

 Each page of the letters has been utilised to the full, paper presumably being extremely scarce on the goldfields, and all eight are cross-written. Included in the lot is a fragment of the Argus newspaper (Melbourne 27 October 1852) addressed to Mrs Way at Calbourne Mills, Isle of Wight, from which mill Shaw set out in 1852.

575 AUSTRALIA. GOLD RUSH. DAVIE (JAMES) Series of 6 A.Ls.s. 23 pages, 4*to and* 8*vo*, Lanky Gully, Jim Crow Diggings, Australia 1850-1860, to his mother (one to his brother) describing life at the diggings, sometimes complaining of the lack of gold, at other times sending good news (" . . . the second week we shared eighty-two pounds between the three of us . . . "), giving a long description of a certain method of mining, bitterly blaming his partner for his crookedness, telling his brother he has given up drinking, giving an idea of the cost of living at the diggings (" . . . flour is risen to three pounds per bag, potatoes six shillings per hundred weight, sugar seven to eight pound, butter three shillings per pound . . . "), and speaking in general of the harshness of life

 Also included in this lot is an A.L.s. by Mary Ann Alderson, 4 pages, 8*vo*, South Geelong, 30 September 1854 to George Thompson, rejoicing at the news of his arrival in Australia " . . . I have not seen a face I know since leaving England . . . I am in a situation in Geelong" and signing her name "Short one as you used to call me" with envelope endorsed 'Unclaimed' bearing six postmarks

575A AUSTRALIA. Printed advance form for wages to be paid to a sailor on the "Isabella Watson" made out for the voyage to Hobart in March 1842 which transported 197 convicts; printed letter from British & American Licensed Shipping & Ballast Office, Melbourne, to Captain McDonald enclosing their trade card; also a collection of 12 printed Bills of Lading each made out for goods carried by the Emigrant Ship the "Mary Shepherd" sailed by Captain McDonald, to Bombay and including consignments of gunpowder, Madeira, one case of prints, two cases of seeds, champagne, sherry and paper

 Captain J. A. McDonald was the master of the barque "Mary Shepherd" which transported emigrants to Australia (see Lot 415 of sale in our Rooms, 20 May 1969).

Also included in this lot is a printed copy of "Daily Texts, with Verses for Hymns" contemporary red morocco, with flap, miniature, 67 by 52mm., with the signature of Elizabeth McDonald on the fly-leaf and a printed copy of the "Act for the Protection of Seamen entering on Board Merchant Ships", 6 pages, sewn. folio

Papers of Henry Walter Bates 1825-1892

Henry Walter Bates accompanied Alfred Russell Wallace to South America in 1848 but the two naturalists soon parted company once they had begun their various travels in the region of the Amazon. Bates, whose adventures are recorded in one of the classics of travel, The Naturalist on the River Amazons (1863) spent eleven years gathering specimens and discovered no less than eight thousand new species of Amazonian birds and mammals, fish, reptiles and insects. His work has been overshadowed by that of Wallace, but his contributions to the theories elaborated upon by Wallace and Darwin place him in the front-rank of naturalists of the period. This collection was not known to George Woodcock who published his biography of Bates in 1969.

576 GOSSE (PHILIP HENRY, zoologist, 1810-1888) Series of 4 A.Ls.s. 13 pages, 8*vo*, Sandhurst, Torquay, February-April 1862 to Henry Walter Bates, referring to Bates's work in South America " . . . I have mentally followed you to & fro in the scenes & among the lovely insects, which you have so graphically described, with ever increasing sympathy . . . ", encouraging Bates to publish an account of his travels, and discussing the best methods of procuring details and specimens of the orchids of the Amazon region " . . . I have just begun the culture of tropical Orchids in a small way . . . "

 Gosse became one of the foremost authorities on the culture of orchids and assembled a remarkable collection. Also included in this lot is an AUTOGRAPH DRAFT OF A LETTER FROM BATES TO GOSSE, in reply to the latter's first letter, one page, 8*vo*, thanking Gosse for the welcome on his return to England " . . . You ask me whether I am likely to go out again. I have no intention at present of doing so. Eleven years of tropical residence & travel devoted to one pursuit is a sufficient portion of life to be so spent . . . "

577 GOULD (JOHN, ornithologist, 1804-1881) Fine A.L.s. 2 pages, 4*to*, 20 Broad Street, Golden Square, London, 27 June 1855, to H. W. Bates, discussing at great length his own special interest in THE BIRDS OF SOUTH AMERICA " . . . I am most interested with the lovely Trochilidæ or Humming Birds: Now although the members of this group are not numerous in the valley of the Amazon I am sure that species exist which have not yet been sent to us . . . ", describing the book he was compiling [A Monograph of the Trochilidæ] " . . . You are doubtless aware that I am publishing a work on this group and would not I presume be displeased at the frequent mention of your name therein: be so good as to collect as many notes of the habits of the species as you can . . . I will take care that your notes and exertions are duly recorded . . . I have frequently had occasion to mention Mr Wallace in this way . . . ", giving instructions as to what was to be recorded and collected, offering to buy any specimens Bates could collect and pleading that whatever was collected " . . . will be sent to this country before all others . . . "

578 HEWITSON (WILLIAM CHAPMAN, entomologist, 1806-1878) Important collection of 9 A.Ls.s. (and one fragment), c. 38 pages, 8*vo*, Oatlands, Walton-on-Thames, [c. 1848-1859] to Henry Walter Bates, discussing at great length the new discoveries Bates was making on the Amazon in the field of entomology, " . . . Everything you do every collection you send home is increasing that indescribable love for the beautiful things—& others cannot understand the earnestness with which I compete for them . . . ", giving detailed reports of the new specimens Bates sent him, precise instructions as to what he wanted Bates to obtain or observe, and keeping Bates in touch with discoveries in other parts of the world THE LETTERS CONTAINING 48 DIAGRAMS IN PEN AND SOME IN WATER-COLOURS, OF BUTTERFLIES, SERVING AS ILLUSTRATIONS TO HIS TEXT

. . . My best wishes will indeed go with you into the new & promised land & I much admire your perseverance . . . I must always express my dissent to all the best things being gobbled up by the B.M. . . .

. . . Thank you for your drawing of Stalachtis calliope & crysalis. It is a very good drawing. I will now try to give you some hurried sketches by which I hope you will make out some of the genera of the Erycinidæ. . . .

. . . It appears that you have been sending home two species of Callithea which have passed as Batesii I have had a glorious male from New Granada . . . the females of both are so near that almost the only difference I can point out is that Batesii has four black spots on the underside. . . .

. . . I have just been drawing two plates of Hesperidæ . . . I want to let them see on the Continent how rich we are in everything. They have just been publishing the new things in the royal museum of St Petersburg & have had great difficulty to make up a few plates of obscure species. . . .

 Hewitson was perhaps the greatest pictorial describer of butterflies and his collection of diurnal lepidoptera the most complete. His library was bequeathed to the Natural History Society of Newcastle; his magnificent collections of specimens were left to the nation and are now in the Natural History Museum. These letters are apparently UNPUBLISHED.

579 HOOKER (Sir JOSEPH DALTON, botanist and Director of Kew Gardens, 1817-1911) Series of 10 A.Ls.s. 65 pages, 8*vo Kew*, 1861-1863 to Henry Walter Bates, discussing at length the scientific scene in London, publications, journals and personalities, giving A LONG DISSERTATION ON THE THEORY OF NATURAL SELECTION and encouraging Bates to publish his own findings " . . . I am delighted to hear that you are going to write on the Geographical relatives of species & varieties, upon which subject I know that you have a great deal of novel as well as pregnant matter that wants embodyment . . . The question of varieties on islands opens a wide field, which I should extremely like to talk over with you apropos of Darwin's remark (which he & I are now corresponding about) that the absence of struggle in islands should tend to perpetuate original forms there . . . ", elaborating on his theories in one letter to such a degree that in the next he asks Bates to send him a copy of it so that he can forward it and Bates's reply to Darwin who had requested them, attempting to comfort Bates over the reception of The Naturalist on the River Amazons " . . . It is extremely difficult to establish a footing in London scientific society; It is all along of the last of the struggle for life! You are instinctively regarded as an interloper . . . ", advising Bates not to worry at the hostility of John Edward Gray, the entomologist, " . . . Do not be discouraged by Gray's doubts as to your statements—it is a way he has got of abusing every-body . . . ", and giving an interesting account of his own work and theories, one letter slightly torn

580 LYELL (Sir CHARLES, geologist, 1797-1875) Series of 3 A.Ls.s. 20 pages and 4 Ls.s. 11 pages, 8*vo*, 53 Harley Street, London 1866-1867 to Henry Walter Bates, concerning the geography and geology of South America and aspects of zoology, with references to DARWIN AND HIS THEORY OF EVOLUTION and a critique of the theories of Professor Agassiz with regard to the geographical distribution of the races of man

. . . It has always struck me that the poverty of the fauna of the Pacific islands is very much against their being the last remnants of a continent & the refuge of a once extensive & rich terrestrial fauna & flora. Is it not strange that New Zealand should have been without mammalia? . . . It rather makes against Darwin's argument . . . I sometimes thought that all the coral peaks or the shoals on which they have grown have been submerged and that Tahiti was built up by volcanic action . . .

. . . Mr Wallace tells me that it is your opinion that the Red Indians spread in comparatively modern times over the tropical part of S. America, & are scarcely yet acclimatized . . . I have always endeavoured to reconcile the ubiquity of the American Indian with his having got into the New World somewhat later than the periods when primeval man spread over the old world . . .

. . . Without reference to the Equatorial glaciers of Agassiz I should be glad if you would tell me whether as an Entomologist, you think Darwin is right in concluding that there was so much cold in the last glacial period as to enable species . . . to migrate from the Andes across the low country to the tops of the Brazilian and other mountains . . . Perhaps you and Mr Wallace might test it by another set of facts . . .

581 STANLEY (Sir HENRY MORTON, explorer 1841-1904) Two A.Ls.s. 2 pages, 8*vo*, 160 New Bond Street, London and South Western Hotel, Southampton, 14 April 1874 and 3 June 1886 to Henry Walter Bates, concerning a reading of Sir Francis de Winton's paper on the Congo Free State and accepting the invitation of the committee of the Royal Geographical Society to ACT AS A PALL-BEARER AT THE FUNERAL OF DAVID LIVINGSTONE in Westminster Abbey

⁂ Stanley had reluctantly returned to Zanzibar in March 1872 unable to persuade Livingstone to return with him to England and, still obsessed with the idea of finding the source of the Nile, Livingstone set out on his last, disastrous journey. His body was brought back to England and buried in Westminster Abbey, 18 April 1874.

582 WALLACE (ALFRED RUSSELL, naturalist, 1823-1913) Four A.Ls.s. 10 pages, 8*vo*, 5 Westbourne Grove Terrace, London, Frith Hill, Godalming, Hamilton House, The Croft, Hastings, 1863-1889, to Henry Walter Bates, congratulating him on a good review of his (Bates's) the Naturalist on the River Amazons in the Times " . . . I hope you will find out who wrote it as it is really well done . . . ", giving an account of himself and his children, and returning a book to the Royal Geographical Society "which has remained overlooked for several years" and congratulating Bates on his appointment as Assistant Secretary of the Royal Geographical Society (a post for which Wallace was the only competing candidate)

⁂ Also included in this lot is an A.L.s. by Wallace's mother, 2 pages, 12*mo*, 11 May 1863, to Bates, thanking him for his kindness to "my dear Herbert in a foreign land" sending him a small memento of the boy and concluding "say nothing to my son Alfred he is peculiar and may not like my troubling you with things long past away . . . "

583 NATURALISTS etc. Collection of 19 A.Ls.s. and Ls.s. by various scientists to Henry Walter Bates, c. 46 pages, 8*vo* and 12*mo*, 1862-1890 and including letters by T. H. Huxley regretting that he cannot attend a meeting of the Royal Geographical Society; Sir Richard Owen expressing the pleasure "I have derived from your experiences of Natural Phenomena in the region of the Amazons . . . "; Sir Samuel White Baker (2) (" . . . I am sorry that I cannot have the melancholy satisfaction of accompanying poor Livingstone's remains on Saturday. . . . If Livingstone were alive I would run any risk to serve him if in need. . . . I see by the 'Times' . . . Colonel Gordon my successor has taken into his employ the (so-called 'chief') the greatest slave trader and ruffian of the White Nile . . . I left this man in prison in Cairo. . . . I have not in my possession Nubar Pacha's receipt for 17 documents—evidence against him . . . "); Herbert Spencer (2) (requesting a book of travel concerning the hill tribes of India); Sir John Lubbock (4); Sir Roderick Murchison (9) (" . . . During a visit of an hours duration which the Emperor of Brazil paid me on Saturday last, he made special enquiries about you & Mr Wallace . . . " and announcing in another that Bates had been appointed to his position at the Royal Geographical Society rather than Alfred Russell Wallace "The Committee of Governors unanimously decided in your favour . . . ")

 Also included in this lot are 2 A.Ls.s. by Bates, one written to his parents from South America, dated Pará 30 May 1859 announcing his proposed return to England and ending ". . . So now Goodbye till you see an oldish yellow-faced man in big whiskers . . . make his appearance in King Street Leicester . . . " the second to Dr. Jessopp concerning a collection of insects (1873); together with THE CORRESPONDENCE OF JOHN MURRAY CONCERNING THE PUBLICATION OF The Naturalist on the River Amazons comprising Murray's copy of his answer to Darwin thanking him for "introducing me to Mr. W. H. Bates. What you tell me of him interests me much . . . " and 14 further letters from Murray to Bates concerning the book, editing the work of others, and acting as reader 1862-1888

The Property of Richard Witty & Co.

584 WILSON (Dr. EDWARD A., 1872-1912, Antarctic explorer and naturalist who perished with Scott at the South Pole) THREE AUTOGRAPH JOURNALS KEPT BY WILSON ON THE ANTARCTIC EXPEDITION UNDER SCOTT ON THE Terra Nova, BETWEEN 5 July 1910 AND 15 January 1911, legibly written in pencil in three quarto notebooks (one inscribed "private journal" and signed), and on a few loose sheets with the printed heading of the British Antarctic Expedition (slightly frayed at edges), 117 pages in all

 Wilson was second in command under Scott on the 1910 Antarctic expedition and had previously served with him on the Discovery, 1901-4. In these journals he provides a lively description of the personalities and adventures of the party, listing their nicknames (e.g. Scott is 'The Owner' and "Campbell as the President of the Purity Brigade wears a halo—but it has been broken so often that it hardly holds together") and referring frequently to Scott

> . . . Capt. Scott called me in after tea & showed me a long letter of some 12 sheets he had written home, & in it was absolutely nothing but the fullest appreciation of everybody's work . . . He also told me all his plans for the future . . . [He] told me the plans for our depot journey—on which we shall be starting in about ten days time. He wants me to be a dog driver with himself, Meares and Teddie Evans, and this is what I would have chosen had I a free choice of all . . . the dog drivers are therefore the people who will have best chance of doing the top piece of the ice cap at 10,000 feet to the pole. May I be there! . . . With so many young bloods in the hey day of youth & strength beyond my own I feel there will be a most difficult task in making choice towards the end & a most keen competition . . . with a complete absence of any jealous feeling in any single one of the comparatively large number who at present stand a chance of being on the last piece next summer . . . I have never been thrown with a more unselfish lot of men . . .

As a naturalist he gives a detailed account of the birds and fish seen by him during the journey, occasionally illustrating his notes with sketches, and he refers frequently to a report on grouse which he is preparing in his spare time. He writes amusingly about the impromptu entertainments on the ship and provides some delightful pen portraits of various dignitaries he meets in South Africa and Australia during visits there, espcially while trying to obtain funds for the expedition in Melbourne. In a poignant description of his last days with his wife he writes (" . . . I saw her disappear out of sight waving happily a goodbye that will be with me to the day I see her again in this world or the next—I think it will be in this world, and some time in 1912 . . . "). Wilson's body was found, with those of Scott and Bowers, by the relief party sent from Cape Evans to search for them.

This is Wilson's own private journal. A few extracts from his letter-journal to his wife are published in George Seaver's Edward Wilson of the Antarctic, 1933. Although some passages are similar to those in the present journal, the published passages are not extensive and in some cases the two versions vary considerably.

Other Properties

585 SCOTT (Captain ROBERT FALCON) Series of 6 A.Ls.s., c. 11½ pages, 8*vo*, 56 Oakley Street, Chelsea, Admiralty, HMS Bulwark, etc., 29 March 1905—17 September 1908 (some dated only by day of month), to Dr. E. S. Roberts (Master of Gonville and Caius College, Cambridge) and Mrs. Roberts, referring to invitations to stay with them in Cambridge, arranging to stay in 1905 "during my visit to Cambridge to receive the Honorary degree which the Senate propose to confer on me", mentioning "the insecurity of a sailor's future", thanking Mrs. Roberts for a wedding present, and referring to his honeymoon in France and to his new home, with three of the envelopes and one other autograph envelope

586 SCOTT'S LAST EXPEDITION. Correspondence concerning the Expedition and the planting of the flag of Gonville and Caius College, Cambridge, at the South Pole by Edward Wilson, c. 20 pages, 8*vo*, 1909-13, together with the College flag taken to the Pole, the arms embroidered on a field of white silk, 6*ins.* by 3½*ins. overall, attached to an ivory pole*

⁂ The correspondence comprises the following six letters, all written to Mrs. Roberts, wife of Dr. E. S. Roberts, Master of the College from 1903 to 1912:

WILSON (EDWARD ADRIAN, 1872-1912, chief of the scientific staff in Scott's 1912 expedition) 2 A.Ls.s., 8 pages, Westal, Cheltenham, and 19 Holland Street, Kensington, 20 September 1909—21 May 1910, telling Mrs. Roberts that "the Combination Room shall not be disappointed" and that he will be "very proud if the College arms were entrusted to me in some portable form for a journey to the Pole and back", suggesting a small square of silk, stressing the factor of weight (" . . . our very souls are weighed when we start on a long sledge journey . . . "), mentioning that each member of the party will carry a banner with family crest and motto, acknowledging receipt of the flag, and hoping that the party still to be chosen for the journey to the Pole will include a Cambridge man.

WILSON (Mrs. ORIANA, wife of E. A. Wilson) 3 A.Ls.s., 8 pages, Cheltenham and 11 Green Street, Mayfair, 20 April—7 May 1913, referring to her husband and his death, telling Mrs. Roberts that "Ted took the Caius College flag to the Pole & it was found with other things carefully wrapped up—in the tent—beside him", and suggesting ways of despatching the flag to Mrs. Roberts, one original envelope.

ANDERSON (Sir HUGH KERR, Master of Gonville and Caius College, 1912-28) A.L.s., 4 pages, Cambridge, 5 May 1913, suggesting an occasion when Mrs. Roberts could present the flag to the College, referring to a proposal that it should be kept in the Hall, and mentioning Edward Wilson's wishes about the form of a memorial to himself, on which Lady Scott is working.

Wilson, who perished with Scott in 1912, had been an undergraduate at Gonville and Caius in 1891-4.

587 SCOTT (ROBERT FALCON, 1868-1912, Antarctic explorer) A.L.s., one page 4to, on British Antarctic Expedition, 1910, headed paper, 3 June, 1910, thanking his correspondent for an invitation to dinner and for a kind letter, mentioning that he will probably be dining at the Pilgrim's Club etc.
